AUTHORS

With a completely unexpected path into the world of video, I discovered at a young age what I love to do: documenting authentic stories. I love capturing the essence of spontaneous moments and emotions that arise naturally.

Born in Cancun, I developed a love for the sea, cenotes and nature in all its forms. I truly enjoy tropical life and that's why weddings in the Riviera Maya excite me: they capture that authentic touch surrounded by palm trees, white sand and turquoise waters.

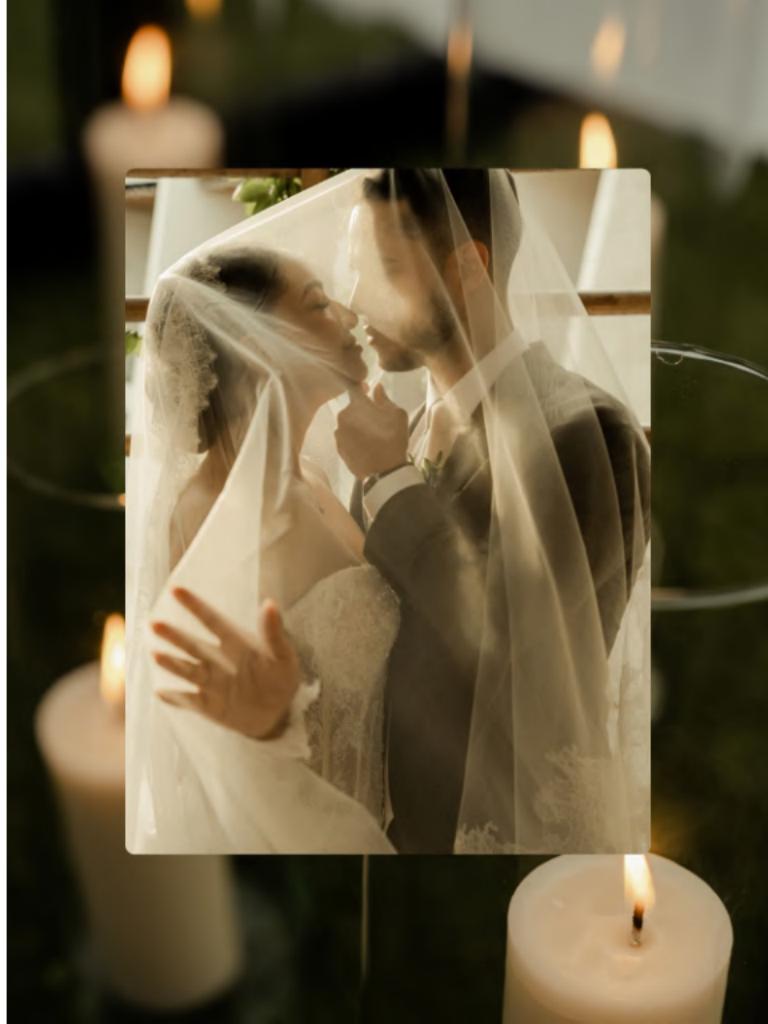

VÍCTOR RODRÍGUEZ

I am fortunate to be able to dedicate myself to what I like. I really enjoy doing portrait, documentary, artistic and advertising photography; I love being active, exercising, writing poetry, reading short stories, drawing what my mind tells me, and doing a series of activities that inspire me to express, be proactive and above all that reinvent me as a person to always be someone better.

Im a Football fan and loyal supporter of the Minnesota Vikings.
